Movie Cameras Take Scene From Window Used by Killer

DALLAS (UPI) — Movie cameras today filmed a sixth-floor window and a grassy knoll above it in a reenactment of the assassination of President John Kennedy.

It was attended by police and FBI agents.

The re-enactment followed the last part of the parade last Friday that the President would complete.

Men crowded in the sixth floor window of the building the window believed to have been the assassin's hiding place. They were armed with movie cameras.

A barricaded area and a watcher on the roof of the warehouse as it turned slowly to approach the triple underpass. A cameraman in the car took pictures of the drive.

A second run through was ordered and police traffic division Lt. W. F. Southard rode in the car. This time, the photographer in the car photographed the window.

FBI agents kept the sixth floor closed to all but employees in the building.

In Washington the justice department denied that it had any photographs or other evidence showing that there were two persons in the window at the time of the assassination.
